Get the Liberator.

At No. 11, Merchants' Hall.

W. Lloyd Garrison, Editor.

The Liberator is published every Saturday at the office of the publisher.

No. 11. Boston, Massachusetts.

VOL. I.

WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON AND ISAAC KNAPP, PUBLISHERS.

Our Country is the World—Our Citizens are Mankind.

SATURDAY, MARCH 12, 1835.

COMMUNICATIONS.

D.C. — Will some of our distressed colonisationists, who are bent upon the benevolent project of sending our colored population to their native land, — a land, by the way, which they scarcely see, be good enough to read and digest the following communication from a colored gentleman of high respectability and superior intelligence.

The Colonization Crusade.

To the Editor of the Liberator.

Esteemed Friend: — My attention was fertilised by a recent communication in the Daily Advertiser of the 16th inst. which states that Mrs. Summervail, of Tronto, N. J., has presented one hundred dollars to Mr. Page, a colored man.

The more I think upon this, and what I can make of it, the less it seems to me that we, as a people, have done our utmost in the way of effort, and the less it appears to be true that we have done anything to influence public sentiment in the right direction on this great subject.

The Colonization Crusade.

To the Editor of the Liberator.

Esteemed Friend: — My attention was fertilised by a recent communication in the Daily Advertiser of the 16th inst. which states that Mrs. Summervail, of Tronto, N. J., has presented one hundred dollars to Mr. Page, a colored man.

The more I think upon this, and what I can make of it, the less it seems to me that we, as a people, have done our utmost in the way of effort, and the less it appears to be true that we have done anything to influence public sentiment in the right direction on this great subject.

The Colonization Crusade.

To the Editor of the Liberator.

Esteemed Friend: — My attention was fertilised by a recent communication in the Daily Advertiser of the 16th inst. which states that Mrs. Summervail, of Tronto, N. J., has presented one hundred dollars to Mr. Page, a colored man.

The more I think upon this, and what I can make of it, the less it seems to me that we, as a people, have done our utmost in the way of effort, and the less it appears to be true that we have done anything to influence public sentiment in the right direction on this great subject.

The Colonization Crusade.

To the Editor of the Liberator.

Esteemed Friend: — My attention was fertilised by a recent communication in the Daily Advertiser of the 16th inst. which states that Mrs. Summervail, of Tronto, N. J., has presented one hundred dollars to Mr. Page, a colored man.

The more I think upon this, and what I can make of it, the less it seems to me that we, as a people, have done our utmost in the way of effort, and the less it appears to be true that we have done anything to influence public sentiment in the right direction on this great subject.

The Colonization Crusade.

To the Editor of the Liberator.

Esteemed Friend: — My attention was fertilised by a recent communication in the Daily Advertiser of the 16th inst. which states that Mrs. Summervail, of Tronto, N. J., has presented one hundred dollars to Mr. Page, a colored man.

The more I think upon this, and what I can make of it, the less it seems to me that we, as a people, have done our utmost in the way of effort, and the less it appears to be true that we have done anything to influence public sentiment in the right direction on this great subject.

The Colonization Crusade.

To the Editor of the Liberator.

Esteemed Friend: — My attention was fertilised by a recent communication in the Daily Advertiser of the 16th inst. which states that Mrs. Summervail, of Tronto, N. J., has presented one hundred dollars to Mr. Page, a colored man.

The more I think upon this, and what I can make of it, the less it seems to me that we, as a people, have done our utmost in the way of effort, and the less it appears to be true that we have done anything to influence public sentiment in the right direction on this great subject.

The Colonization Crusade.

To the Editor of the Liberator.

Esteemed Friend: — My attention was fertilised by a recent communication in the Daily Advertiser of the 16th inst. which states that Mrs. Summervail, of Tronto, N. J., has presented one hundred dollars to Mr. Page, a colored man.

The more I think upon this, and what I can make of it, the less it seems to me that we, as a people, have done our utmost in the way of effort, and the less it appears to be true that we have done anything to influence public sentiment in the right direction on this great subject.

The Colonization Crusade.

To the Editor of the Liberator.

Esteemed Friend: — My attention was fertilised by a recent communication in the Daily Advertiser of the 16th inst. which states that Mrs. Summervail, of Tronto, N. J., has presented one hundred dollars to Mr. Page, a colored man.

The more I think upon this, and what I can make of it, the less it seems to me that we, as a people, have done our utmost in the way of effort, and the less it appears to be true that we have done anything to influence public sentiment in the right direction on this great subject.
MEETING IN PHILADELPHIA.
Philadelphia, March 1, 1861.

At a meeting of the Convention of this city, on the 1st of March, Mr. Webster, Mr. Whipple and James Carroll were elected as a Committee of three to advise the object of the meeting; the same being to give a more extensive patronage to the "Liberator," aided by Mr. Brown and Mr. Goodwin, in the city of Boston.

He added that the difficulties of the editor had increased during the winter months, and that he felt that the object of the meeting was truly a noble and Feeleveshly addressed by Mr. Mears, Driscoll, Forbes, Mears, and others, in behalf of the paper and its editor.

It was then Resolved, That a committee of three was appointed to invite and address to the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania a petition of the same nature as was addressed to the Legislature of the State of New York, and that the president of the committee was to be an agent to choose in either State to obtain subscriptions to the "Liberator," which was duly appointed.

PREAMBLE.

When we look upon the past and present condition of our country, we must regret that the effects of slavery and prejudice are still prevalent, and the long struggle is yet to come.

Resolved, That we strongly recommend the adoption of the system of education as a preventive of slavery, and that the Legislature be requested to pass a law requiring the same.

Resolved, That this petition be presented to the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, and that the president of the committee be an agent to choose in the State of New York.

PREAMBLE.

When we look upon the past and present condition of our country, we must regret that the effects of slavery and prejudice are still prevalent, and the long struggle is yet to come.

Resolved, That we strongly recommend the adoption of the system of education as a preventive of slavery, and that the Legislature be requested to pass a law requiring the same.

Resolved, That this petition be presented to the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, and that the president of the committee be an agent to choose in the State of New York.

PREAMBLE.

When we look upon the past and present condition of our country, we must regret that the effects of slavery and prejudice are still prevalent, and the long struggle is yet to come.

Resolved, That we strongly recommend the adoption of the system of education as a preventive of slavery, and that the Legislature be requested to pass a law requiring the same.

Resolved, That this petition be presented to the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, and that the president of the committee be an agent to choose in the State of New York.

PREAMBLE.

When we look upon the past and present condition of our country, we must regret that the effects of slavery and prejudice are still prevalent, and the long struggle is yet to come.

Resolved, That we strongly recommend the adoption of the system of education as a preventive of slavery, and that the Legislature be requested to pass a law requiring the same.

Resolved, That this petition be presented to the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, and that the president of the committee be an agent to choose in the State of New York.

PREAMBLE.

When we look upon the past and present condition of our country, we must regret that the effects of slavery and prejudice are still prevalent, and the long struggle is yet to come.

Resolved, That we strongly recommend the adoption of the system of education as a preventive of slavery, and that the Legislature be requested to pass a law requiring the same.

Resolved, That this petition be presented to the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, and that the president of the committee be an agent to choose in the State of New York.

PREAMBLE.

When we look upon the past and present condition of our country, we must regret that the effects of slavery and prejudice are still prevalent, and the long struggle is yet to come.

Resolved, That we strongly recommend the adoption of the system of education as a preventive of slavery, and that the Legislature be requested to pass a law requiring the same.

Resolved, That this petition be presented to the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, and that the president of the committee be an agent to choose in the State of New York.

PREAMBLE.

When we look upon the past and present condition of our country, we must regret that the effects of slavery and prejudice are still prevalent, and the long struggle is yet to come.

Resolved, That we strongly recommend the adoption of the system of education as a preventive of slavery, and that the Legislature be requested to pass a law requiring the same.

Resolved, That this petition be presented to the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, and that the president of the committee be an agent to choose in the State of New York.

PREAMBLE.

When we look upon the past and present condition of our country, we must regret that the effects of slavery and prejudice are still prevalent, and the long struggle is yet to come.

Resolved, That we strongly recommend the adoption of the system of education as a preventive of slavery, and that the Legislature be requested to pass a law requiring the same.

Resolved, That this petition be presented to the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, and that the president of the committee be an agent to choose in the State of New York.

PREAMBLE.

When we look upon the past and present condition of our country, we must regret that the effects of slavery and prejudice are still prevalent, and the long struggle is yet to come.

Resolved, That we strongly recommend the adoption of the system of education as a preventive of slavery, and that the Legislature be requested to pass a law requiring the same.

Resolved, That this petition be presented to the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, and that the president of the committee be an agent to choose in the State of New York.
A THOUGHT OF PARADISE.

Once, I was asked, What is Paradise? I thought about it for a moment, and then replied, Paradise is the place where all the flowers bloom and all the birds sing. I am sure that this is the correct answer, as I have never been to Paradise myself, but I am sure that it is a beautiful place. In the Garden of Eden, where Adam and Eve were living, there was a beautiful garden with all sorts of flowers and trees. I imagine that this is what Paradise looks like, with all sorts of flowers and birds singing in the trees.

AN ALLEGORY.

Everywhere in the garden, there were beautiful flowers, with petals of every color of the rainbow. The bees were buzzing around, gathering nectar from the blossoms. The birds were singing sweetly, their melodies weaving in and out of the trees. The air was perfumed with the scent of flowers, and the breeze carried their fragrance on its wings.

The garden was a place of peace and tranquility, where all was in harmony. The sun shone down upon the garden, casting its warm rays upon the earth. The sky was a brilliant blue, with fluffy white clouds floating lazily across it. The garden was a place of wonder and excitement, a place where one could escape from the stresses of daily life.

Though the garden was beautiful, it was not the only paradise. There is a paradise within each of us, a place where we can find peace and serenity. It is a place where we can escape from the stresses of daily life, a place where we can find solace and comfort.

The garden was a place of beauty, but it was also a place of mystery. It was a place where one could find oneself, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life. It was a place of wonder, a place where one could marvel at the beauty of creation.

In this garden, there were no worries, no cares. The birds sang, the bees danced, and the flowers bloomed. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place where one could find comfort and solace.

The garden was a place of beauty, a place of mystery, a place of wonder. It was a place where one could find themselves, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a place of beauty, a place of mystery, a place of wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life. The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder.

The garden was a place of beauty, a place of mystery, a place of wonder. It was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.

The garden was a symbol of paradise, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place of peace and tranquility, a place of beauty and wonder. It was a place where one could find comfort and solace, a place where one could discover the true meaning of life.