THE LIBERATOR

VOL. I.   NO. 37.

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS,

OCTOBER 9, 1831.

WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON AND ISAAC KNAPP, PUBLISHERS.

[Price Two Dollars per annum, payable in advance.]

THAT AGENT, or more, shall be paid for each copy delivered upon receipt of a check or other acceptable form of payment.

TO ALL INQUIRIES, ADDRESS:

W. L. GARRISON,

270 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

ADDRESS LETTERS TO:

THE LIBERATOR,

Boston, Mass.

THE LIBERATOR

THREATS TO ASSASSINATE.

John Brown, the maniac, as we have seen, has repeatedly threatened to assassinate Mr. Lincoln, the President of the United States, and recently he has made threats of a more severe character. Mr. Lincoln has been known to be a man of gentle and benevolent disposition, and his acts have been widely condemned by the people of the country. Brown, on the other hand, is a known enemy of the government, and has been implicated in various conspiracies against it. It is reasonable to suppose that Mr. Lincoln will be in danger, and it is up to the authorities to make arrangements to keep him safe.

The following letters inflame blood into my veins. "Sir, I am the man who, if the sacrifice of my life be required in this great war, I shall be willing to make it; only give me a gun, and I will be the last to be shot down." The desire of the people is that the President should be safe, and the President himself expresses a like desire. If any one has information that will aid in securing the President, he is asked to communicate with the proper authorities.

The threats to assassinate Mr. Lincoln are sufficiently serious to require the most serious consideration. The government has taken steps to protect the President, and it is hoped that these measures will be sufficient to prevent any attempt on his life.

I have nothing to say about the maniac who has threatened to assassinate Mr. Lincoln. He is a dangerous character, and it is the duty of the government to do all in its power to prevent him from carrying out his threats.

JAMAICA.

A letter from Kingston, Jamaica, dated July 6th, 1831. Kingston is the capital of the island of Jamaica, which is one of the Windward Islands.

The writer begins his letter by saying that he is much gratified to hear that the slaves in the island are free, and that the government is taking steps to ensure their safety. He says that the government is doing everything in its power to prevent any further disturbances.

The writer concludes his letter by expressing his hope that the government will continue to do all in its power to protect the freed slaves.

THE LESSER KIMBERLEY.

The lesser Kimberley is a small diamond mine in South Africa. The mine is located in the Transvaal region, and is known for producing high-quality diamonds.

The writer begins his letter by saying that the lesser Kimberley is one of the most productive diamond mines in the world. He says that the mine is located in a region that is rich in diamonds, and that the government is doing everything in its power to ensure that the mine is operated in a safe and efficient manner.

The writer concludes his letter by expressing his hope that the lesser Kimberley will continue to be a source of wealth and prosperity for the region.
THE LIBERATOR

THE SLAVERY RECORD

IN INSURGENCE IN VIRGINIA

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

Extract of a letter from the senior officer of the 4th Virginia Regiment, to his brother in West Virginia:

"We are in the midst of a tremendous insurrection. The people are in arms, and we are not able to control them. The insurrection has spread from the mountains and is now reaching down into the valleys. The people are determined to throw off the yoke of oppression and establish liberty and justice for all. We are fighting against the forces of the devil, and we are not yet victorious. But we are not discouraged, for we know that the Lord is on our side."

From the Civil War records, we learn that the insurrection was a result of the draft law, which was enacted to raise soldiers for the Union Army. The people of Virginia were not willing to serve in a war that they believed was fought against their own beliefs. This led to a widespread movement of resistance, which eventually became a full-blown rebellion.

The insurrection was a complex event, involving a variety of factors, including economic, social, and political issues. It was a time of great turmoil and uncertainty, and it left a lasting impact on the history of the United States.

For further details, please refer to the official records of the Civil War.
From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.

* * *

LITERARY.

From the New-England Weekly Review.

REFLECTIONS OF A BELLE.

I am weary of the crowded ball, I am weary of the mind.

But I am weary of the other's love, the greatest of all.

To go to the world is the same thing as being seen.

The world is a theatre, and all of us are actors.