SONNET.

On reading an article of the dramatic proceedings at New-Haven, relative to the African-American College.

New Haven, then but lately a dead town,
To hear the glory in a black epic;—
Wh ere view the hearts of men, and noble deeds—
Every scheme and project of the age.

In the quiet, yet strong, the eye of light.

Preceptor of the arts, yet past our duty,

To bide—breathe—speak—be the public-right.

There empty minds with knowledge to supply—

Encourager of science—art—

Yet hasten to a race whose future world.
When from the dust a noble brother springs,

Suffered with elegance and in the banner of Old Yale.

To bid from history's page the most degenerate race.

It is truly gratifying to see the liberty which is manifested in many of our northern bodies, relative to the establishment of this institution, in their remarks relative to the late meeting at New-Haven. As far as our limits allow, we shall make a record of public opinion on this subject. We are informed of our readers to the following received communications, from the pen of the colored Agent, Rev. Samuel E. Cornish, who is now obtaining contributions in the city of Philadelphia.

From the United States Gazette.

ANONYMously.

The undersigned, agent of a convention of colored men, representing the Free colored people of the United States, hold in the city of New-Haven, June last, a convention of colored men, as the principal object of their organization, and in the capacity of agent, to receive contributions from the colored and other philanthropists of the country, in order to promote the establishment of an institution for the education of colored youth. In pursuance of these views, the undersigned, on behalf of the said convention, hereby requests contributions from the colored and other philanthropists of the country, in order to promote the establishment of an institution for the education of colored youth. In pursuance of these views, the undersigned, on behalf of the said convention, hereby requests contributions from the colored and other philanthropists of the country, in order to promote the establishment of an institution for the education of colored youth.

From the New Haven Register.

Mr. Potter—As a singular fact, I have come to this city, but I have heard of the existence of a convention of colored men, as the principal object of their organization, and in the capacity of agent, to receive contributions from the colored and other philanthropists of the country, in order to promote the establishment of an institution for the education of colored youth. In pursuance of these views, the undersigned, on behalf of the said convention, hereby requests contributions from the colored and other philanthropists of the country, in order to promote the establishment of an institution for the education of colored youth.

A DIALOGUE, IN TWO ACTS.

ACT FIRST.

Friend A. Have you heard how the Geographists are driving off the Indians?—Yes, I have heard the Indians are driving off the Geographists.

ACT SECOND.

Friend A. Have you heard how the Indians are driving off the Geographists?—No, what makes you say so?

The Madras of Tyranny!

To show the effect produced in Virginia, by the recent and violent changes, adopted by the General Assembly, and described in my last number, we cannot pretend that the plan was not favored to abolish the system, and to make the constitution of the state a more perfect and permanent one. The splendid and noble characteristics of the people were so evident in the new frames of government, that the old ones were disposed of by the assembly, without any opposition from the legislature.

The experiment was soon made, and the people were promptly and successfully carried. The late governor, Mr. Smith, was the first to adopt the new laws, and the legislature followed in a few weeks. The people were soon so fully satisfied with the new laws, that they were urged to adopt them, and they did so, as a matter of course.

The experiment was so successful, and the people were satisfied, that the legislature felt confident that the new laws would be well received by the people, and they were therefore prepared to adopt them. The experiment was made, and the people were soon so fully satisfied with the new laws, that they were urged to adopt them, and they did so, as a matter of course.

MY COUNTRY.
E. W. W.

Moss eye in pleasant roses on face, fair hair, white teeth, and bright blue eyes. I am rather tall, with a slender figure, and light hands; and I have a love for exercise and outdoor sports. I am a good dancer, and can sing nearly all the songs I know. My heart is kind, and I often feel sympathy for others. I have a strong love for nature and animals, and I can always be found in the woods or fields, enjoying their beauty and freedom.

I have been to several places, including New York, Boston, and Chicago. I have seen many interesting sights and met many interesting people. I am quite an adventurer, and I enjoy the thrill of discovery and exploration. I have always been fascinated by the world around me, and I am always eager to learn more about it.

I am a great lover of music, and I can often be found singing or playing my guitar. I have a deep love for nature, and I am always looking for new ways to connect with it. I am a great believer in the power of music and nature to heal and inspire.

I have been to many places, including the United States, Canada, and Europe. I have met many interesting people, and I have learned a lot about the world. I am a great traveler, and I am always ready for a new adventure. I love to explore and discover new places, and I am always eager to learn more about the world around me.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE LATE HITS IN PROVIDENCE.

The committee of citizens assembled in the meeting in Providence on the 5th inst., to denounce the recent iniquities of the Government, and to prepare a petition for the people, was composed of the following individuals:—

The committee presented a list of five resolutions, which were adopted by the meeting, and ordered to be sent to the Government, together with the petition. The resolutions were as follows:

1. That the Government has been guilty of high treason against the United States.
2. That the Government has been guilty of high crimes against the people of the United States.
3. That the Government has been guilty of high misgovernment against the people of the United States.
4. That the Government has been guilty of high misconduct against the people of the United States.
5. That the Government has been guilty of high mismanagement against the people of the United States.

The resolutions were presented to the Government, and the petition was sent to the people, together with the resolutions. The people were very much pleased with the resolutions, and they expressed their appreciation of the committee's efforts.

The committee was very much pleased with the resolution, and they expressed their appreciation of the committee's efforts. The people were very much pleased with the resolution, and they expressed their appreciation of the committee's efforts.
