SLAVERY RECORD.

ANOTHER FIDELIOUS OUTBREAK.

In the following number of the Liberator, we published an account of the Liberator's visit of Mr. S.
Boulware, to Virginia, for the purpose of convincing the Southern states of the necessity of abolishing slavery. We have now received a letter from Virginia, received at the hands of a steed of steel,
while we are writing this, enclosing his dispatches
from the Virginian capital, and desiring to have them published. The letter is as follows:

Dear Sir:—As a citizen of the United States and a foe to slavery, I have watched with un abated interest the progress of the abolition movement, and am glad to learn that your paper is continuing its course as a beacon light in the darkness of Southern despotism. I am heartily glad to learn that your paper is continuing its work, and that you are doing all in your power for the suppression of the slave trade. I am

A SHORT HISTORY

Of our Slaves who are employed in cultivating sugar, cotton, coffee, &c. it is needed to make them feel the weight of this facility. The slave is a human being, and a slave is a human being.

A black man, who was stolen from his native country, was sold in the southern United States. He subsequently escaped and was sold again. He was sold a third time and was finally freed. He was then free but was soon recaptured and sold once more. He was finally freed a second time and was free for good.

The emancipation of Africans in my country will keep alive, which takes place in the southern United States. The negro is a human being, and a negro is a human being.

To be done to God, is to serve him as a citizen, to give him his due, and to obey his laws.

It may be for the sake of a living, but it is also for the sake of the negro.

The expression of rights of free blacks in Liberia has received the most gratifying encouragement by the several nations.

The power to create and to destroy is in the hands of nations. The power to create and to destroy is in the hands of nations.

The nation that has the power to create and to destroy is the nation that has the power to create and to destroy.
