SLAVERY RECORD

EXTRAORDINARY CASE:
The following case, which is the most extraordinary and unexampled case of its kind which has been brought before the consideration of the United States Court in New York, is now before us. It is the case of a Negro slave, John Johnson, who has been held in slavery for many years, and who, according to the laws of the State, is entitled to his freedom. The case is now before the United States Court in New York, and it is the duty of the Court to decide whether the plaintiff is entitled to his freedom or not. The plaintiff is represented by the famous lawyer, Mr. John Johnson, who has been a prominent figure in the abolition movement for many years. The case is of great importance, and it is expected that the Court will render a decision which will have a great influence on the whole question of slavery in the United States.

The New England Magazin for April, 1836, makes an article on "Colonial Settlements," which we shall insert in this issue. Mr. A. D. H. C. Wood, the author of "The New England Magazin," is a gentleman of much ability, and he has written an article on this subject which we think will be of great interest to our readers. The article is well written, and it is full of valuable information. It is a pity that we cannot publish the whole of it, but we shall insert as much as we can in this issue. Mr. Wood's article is written in a clear and concise manner, and it is full of useful information. It is a pity that we cannot publish the whole of it, but we shall insert as much as we can in this issue.
