THE LIBERATOR.

Vol. 11.

OUR COUNTRY IS THE WORLD—OUR COUNTRYMEN, ALL MANKIND.

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, OCTOBER 30, 1838.

W. LLOYD GARRISON, EDITOR.

Our object is the education of the colored population of the United States, by teaching them the principles of liberty and equality, and by preparing them for citizenship and for the exercise of the rights of free men. We believe that the colored people of the United States have a right to be free, and that they have a right to be educated, and that they have a right to be citizens of the United States. We believe that the colored people of the United States have a right to be free, and that they have a right to be educated, and that they have a right to be citizens of the United States.

New York, July 12, 1838.

The desire of the slaves is to be free, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master.

Our object is the education of the colored population of the United States, by teaching them the principles of liberty and equality, and by preparing them for citizenship and for the exercise of the rights of free men. We believe that the colored people of the United States have a right to be free, and that they have a right to be educated, and that they have a right to be citizens of the United States.

New York, July 12, 1838.

The desire of the slaves is to be free, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master.

Our object is the education of the colored population of the United States, by teaching them the principles of liberty and equality, and by preparing them for citizenship and for the exercise of the rights of free men. We believe that the colored people of the United States have a right to be free, and that they have a right to be educated, and that they have a right to be citizens of the United States.

New York, July 12, 1838.

The desire of the slaves is to be free, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master.

Our object is the education of the colored population of the United States, by teaching them the principles of liberty and equality, and by preparing them for citizenship and for the exercise of the rights of free men. We believe that the colored people of the United States have a right to be free, and that they have a right to be educated, and that they have a right to be citizens of the United States.

New York, July 12, 1838.

The desire of the slaves is to be free, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master. They desire to be free from the dominion of the master, and to be free from the dominion of the master.
LITERARY, MISCELLANEOUS AND MORAL.

To Dispersed from the West.

[Article content]

MISCELLANEOUS.

Forty-two Years of the Constitution of the United States.

[Article content]

How to Evangelize Africa.

[Article content]

HOSTILE MOVEMENTS AMONG THE ALGECIRAS.

[Article content]

CHRISTMAS IN NEW YORK.

[Article content]

MORAL.

[Article content]