THE NEW YORK PRESS.

But the Yankee--the liberal Yankee, I mean--who had closed his columns with the following statement: "A note of the above is a statement published in the New York Sun," and the editorial in the New York Daily Tribune, which devoted the whole of the paper to the defense of the New York Sun, had not been published, and the New York Sun had not yet been brought into the case. I am not referring to the New York Sun, as it is not the object of this article to discuss the New York Sun, but to the New York Sun, as it is not the object of this article to discuss the New York Sun, but to the New York Sun, as it is not the object of this article to discuss the New York Sun.

Now, with all due respect for the New York Sun, and with all due respect for the New York Tribune, I must say that the New York Sun is not the only newspaper in the country that has been accused of publishing libelous and scandalous matter. There are other newspapers in the country that have been accused of publishing libelous and scandalous matter, and the New York Sun is not the only newspaper in the country that has been accused of publishing libelous and scandalous matter.

But the New York Sun is the only newspaper in the country that has been accused of publishing libelous and scandalous matter, and the New York Tribune is the only newspaper in the country that has been accused of publishing libelous and scandalous matter.

ANOTHER SPECIMEN!!

The Electric Liberator.

Dear Sir,-

Your last would have been in my hands a week ago, but I have failed to hear from you before this. Will you now favor me with a line, that I may know what form of payment you wish me to make you?

Yours truly,

[C.]

P.S. I am desirous to know whether you have the same copy of the "Electric Liberator" in your hand that I gave you.
