GREAT MEETING.

The national meeting of the New England Anti-Slavery Society was held in Boston, Monday evening, March 15, 1839. It was opened by Dr. Henry C. Leete, president of the Boston Anti-Slavery Society; Rev. J. H. Finn, of Philadelphia; Rev. E. P. Silliman, of New York; and Rev. S. J. Bartlett, of Maine. The meeting was addressed by many of the leading men of the country, including Dr. Chas. H. Long, of New York, Dr. J. W. Ely, of New Haven, and Dr. F. W. Damasse, of Philadelphia. The spirit of the meeting was most enthusiastic, and the resolutions were passed with great solemnity and earnestness. The meeting adjourned with the assurance that another meeting would be held at New York next spring.
