COMMUNICATIONS.

MR. THOMPSON IN THE OLD COLONY.

Mr. GRANGER.

Dear Sir,—I have perused the recent numbers of the "Liberator," with an interest, I believe, common to all, who are sensible of the importance of the great question at issue; and I am convinced, that the arguments adduced in its behalf, are not only just and sound, but offer the most promising prospects of a final decision in its favor. I trust, that the "Liberator" will be the guide and companion of the people of this section of the country, and that it will become the voice of the people in their contest with the power of evil, and their advocate in defense of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

Mr. THOMPSON.

Mr. Granger.

I feel, that it is my duty to extend my congratulations to you, on the publication of your paper, and to express my confidence in its success. I am aware, that it is not an easy task to establish a weekly newspaper in a country where there are so few newspapers; but I am persuaded, that the "Liberator" will be a useful and efficient organ, and that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

M. J. M. STONE.

Mr. Granger.

I have read the first number of your paper with great interest, and I am glad to see, that it is well conducted, and that it is likely to be a useful and efficient organ. I hope, that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications, and that it will be able to influence public opinion in favor of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

MR. THOMPSON IN ENGLAND.

Mr. GRANGER.

Dear Sir,—I have perused the recent numbers of the "Liberator," with an interest, I believe, common to all, who are sensible of the importance of the great question at issue; and I am convinced, that the arguments adduced in its behalf, are not only just and sound, but offer the most promising prospects of a final decision in its favor. I trust, that the "Liberator" will be the guide and companion of the people of this section of the country, and that it will become the voice of the people in their contest with the power of evil, and their advocate in defense of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

Mr. THOMPSON.

Mr. Granger.

I feel, that it is my duty to extend my congratulations to you, on the publication of your paper, and to express my confidence in its success. I am aware, that it is not an easy task to establish a weekly newspaper in a country where there are so few newspapers; but I am persuaded, that the "Liberator" will be a useful and efficient organ, and that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

M. J. M. STONE.

Mr. Granger.

I have read the first number of your paper with great interest, and I am glad to see, that it is well conducted, and that it is likely to be a useful and efficient organ. I hope, that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications, and that it will be able to influence public opinion in favor of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

MR. THOMPSON IN ENGLAND.

Mr. GRANGER.

Dear Sir,—I have perused the recent numbers of the "Liberator," with an interest, I believe, common to all, who are sensible of the importance of the great question at issue; and I am convinced, that the arguments adduced in its behalf, are not only just and sound, but offer the most promising prospects of a final decision in its favor. I trust, that the "Liberator" will be the guide and companion of the people of this section of the country, and that it will become the voice of the people in their contest with the power of evil, and their advocate in defense of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

Mr. THOMPSON.

Mr. Granger.

I feel, that it is my duty to extend my congratulations to you, on the publication of your paper, and to express my confidence in its success. I am aware, that it is not an easy task to establish a weekly newspaper in a country where there are so few newspapers; but I am persuaded, that the "Liberator" will be a useful and efficient organ, and that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

M. J. M. STONE.

Mr. Granger.

I have read the first number of your paper with great interest, and I am glad to see, that it is well conducted, and that it is likely to be a useful and efficient organ. I hope, that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications, and that it will be able to influence public opinion in favor of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

MR. THOMPSON IN ENGLAND.

Mr. GRANGER.

Dear Sir,—I have perused the recent numbers of the "Liberator," with an interest, I believe, common to all, who are sensible of the importance of the great question at issue; and I am convinced, that the arguments adduced in its behalf, are not only just and sound, but offer the most promising prospects of a final decision in its favor. I trust, that the "Liberator" will be the guide and companion of the people of this section of the country, and that it will become the voice of the people in their contest with the power of evil, and their advocate in defense of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

Mr. THOMPSON.

Mr. Granger.

I feel, that it is my duty to extend my congratulations to you, on the publication of your paper, and to express my confidence in its success. I am aware, that it is not an easy task to establish a weekly newspaper in a country where there are so few newspapers; but I am persuaded, that the "Liberator" will be a useful and efficient organ, and that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

M. J. M. STONE.

Mr. Granger.

I have read the first number of your paper with great interest, and I am glad to see, that it is well conducted, and that it is likely to be a useful and efficient organ. I hope, that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications, and that it will be able to influence public opinion in favor of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

MR. THOMPSON IN ENGLAND.

Mr. GRANGER.

Dear Sir,—I have perused the recent numbers of the "Liberator," with an interest, I believe, common to all, who are sensible of the importance of the great question at issue; and I am convinced, that the arguments adduced in its behalf, are not only just and sound, but offer the most promising prospects of a final decision in its favor. I trust, that the "Liberator" will be the guide and companion of the people of this section of the country, and that it will become the voice of the people in their contest with the power of evil, and their advocate in defense of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

Mr. THOMPSON.

Mr. Granger.

I feel, that it is my duty to extend my congratulations to you, on the publication of your paper, and to express my confidence in its success. I am aware, that it is not an easy task to establish a weekly newspaper in a country where there are so few newspapers; but I am persuaded, that the "Liberator" will be a useful and efficient organ, and that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

M. J. M. STONE.

Mr. Granger.

I have read the first number of your paper with great interest, and I am glad to see, that it is well conducted, and that it is likely to be a useful and efficient organ. I hope, that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications, and that it will be able to influence public opinion in favor of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

MR. THOMPSON IN ENGLAND.

Mr. GRANGER.

Dear Sir,—I have perused the recent numbers of the "Liberator," with an interest, I believe, common to all, who are sensible of the importance of the great question at issue; and I am convinced, that the arguments adduced in its behalf, are not only just and sound, but offer the most promising prospects of a final decision in its favor. I trust, that the "Liberator" will be the guide and companion of the people of this section of the country, and that it will become the voice of the people in their contest with the power of evil, and their advocate in defense of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

Mr. THOMPSON.

Mr. Granger.

I feel, that it is my duty to extend my congratulations to you, on the publication of your paper, and to express my confidence in its success. I am aware, that it is not an easy task to establish a weekly newspaper in a country where there are so few newspapers; but I am persuaded, that the "Liberator" will be a useful and efficient organ, and that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

M. J. M. STONE.

Mr. Granger.

I have read the first number of your paper with great interest, and I am glad to see, that it is well conducted, and that it is likely to be a useful and efficient organ. I hope, that it will be able to sustain itself in the competition with other publications, and that it will be able to influence public opinion in favor of the cause of humanity and freedom. I am, sir, your obedient servant.