THE LIBERATOR.

Vol. 12. No. 3.

NEW ENGLAND, WASHINGTON, VIOLENT ENGAGEMENTS. [SATURDAY, JANUARY 31, 1858.]

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

The news from the West is full of the abominable treatment of the Negroes by the army of Missouri. The Missouri State Convention is in progress, but its proceedings are of no importance, as the people of the State are determined to have the Negroes driven out, and to have them driven out in a way that shall teach them a lesson they will not forget. The Missouri Legislature is in session, and there is great excitement in the city of St. Louis. The people are determined to have the Negroes driven out, and to have them driven out in a way that shall teach them a lesson they will not forget.

The Western Methodist.

This is the true spirit of the people of the West. They are determined to have the Negroes driven out, and to have them driven out in a way that shall teach them a lesson they will not forget. The Missouri Legislature is in session, and there is great excitement in the city of St. Louis. The people are determined to have the Negroes driven out, and to have them driven out in a way that shall teach them a lesson they will not forget.

The Western Methodist.

This is the true spirit of the people of the West. They are determined to have the Negroes driven out, and to have them driven out in a way that shall teach them a lesson they will not forget. The Missouri Legislature is in session, and there is great excitement in the city of St. Louis. The people are determined to have the Negroes driven out, and to have them driven out in a way that shall teach them a lesson they will not forget.