THE LIBERATOR.

In the Boston Infant Hospital, on the 18th of November, was born, the son of Mr. W. W. Orcutt, of Groton, Mass., and Miss Frances A. Bronson, of Connecticu: 2. Mr. Orcutt, a man of good standing in the community, and Miss Bronson, a lady of refined taste and unexceptionable character, are to be congratulated on the event. It is hoped that the infant may grow to become a beloved companion to the family, and a useful member of society. The infant was born at 11 o'clock in the morning, and is said to be a healthy and vigorous child. The parents are to be commended for their prudence in procuring a hospital for the birth of their child, and for their attention to the health of the infant. It is hoped that the child may be spared the dangers and sufferings which so often attend the birth of children in the homes of the poor. The infant was born at the Boston Infant Hospital, which is conducted by the Boston Infant Society, and is under the care of Dr. C. W. Sewall and Dr. S. F. Brown. The hospital is a model institution, and is a credit to the city of Boston. JOURNAL OF THE TIMES.

BOSTON.
SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1858.

THE MAYOR OF BOSTON.

The mayor of the city of Boston, in his annual address, made some serious accusations against the police. He criticized the force for their inefficiency and claimed that they were not doing their job properly. He also expressed concern about the high crime rates in the city and suggested that the police were not providing adequate protection for the citizens.

SPEAKING OF THE TIMES.

The mayor's statement was met with a mixed reaction from the public. Some praised the mayor for his efforts to protect the city, while others criticized him for his aggressive approach.

REMEMBER THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The mayor's speech was also a reminder of the ongoing political conflicts in the District of Columbia. The city was still recovering from the recent political turmoil, and many residents were concerned about the future of their community.

THE WEIGHTY MATTERS OF THE DAY.

The mayor's address also touched upon some of the most pressing issues of the day, such as education, healthcare, and the environment. He called for a renewed emphasis on these matters and urged the city to take action to address them.

A NUINCE.

The mayor's speech was followed by a series of protests from the city's residents. Many were upset with the mayor's criticism of the police and felt that he was not doing enough to protect the city.

REVIEW.

The mayor's address was reviewed by several local newspapers. Some praised the mayor for his candor, while others criticized his approach.

EASTERN PROGRESS.

Meanwhile, on the eastern front, the situation continued to unfold. The mayor's address was a reminder of the ongoing political conflicts in the region, and many residents were concerned about the future of their community.

FARMERS' AND LABORERS' UNION.

The mayor's speech was also a reminder of the ongoing political conflicts in the region, and many residents were concerned about the future of their community.
