THE LIBERATOR.
OUR COUNTRY IS THE WORLD—OUR COUNTRYMEN ARE ALL MANKIND.
SATURDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1856.

SLAVERY.

The following CHARGES of the BOSTON RECORDER against Miss Harriet Martineau.—By J. B. H., of Boston, Mass.

We have received an impression that the above charges are not unfounded, and that the Recorder, who has always been known as a liberal-minded man, is doing a good work in exposing the evil of slavery.

The Recorder says:—

"The Recorder has always been a friend to the abolitionists, and has always given them a fair hearing. But the Recorder has also been a friend to the government, and has always given it a fair hearing. But the Recorder has also been a friend to the law, and has always given it a fair hearing. But the Recorder has also been a friend to the people, and has always given them a fair hearing. But the Recorder has also been a friend to the Recorder, and has always given him a fair hearing."

The Recorder adds:—

"The Recorder is not a abolitionist, but the Recorder is a friend to the abolitionists. The Recorder is not a friend to the government, but the Recorder is a friend to the government. The Recorder is not a friend to the law, but the Recorder is a friend to the law. The Recorder is not a friend to the people, but the Recorder is a friend to the people. The Recorder is not a friend to the Recorder, but the Recorder is a friend to the Recorder."
MISCELLANEOUS

REV. NATHANIEL PAUL.

The following notice of the death of this individual, which has been published in the Literary Journal of the United States of America, in which I was employed as a correspondent, has been communicated to me by the Rev. Mr. Paul, in the following language:—

"Dr. Paul, who has been a long time engaged in the service of the Church, is deceased, leaving behind him a numerous and respectable family. He was a man of great learning and piety, and is much regretted by his friends and countrymen."

PEACE ON EARTH—GOOD WILL TO MEN.

It was with great delight that I received the news of the establishment of peace in the United States of America, and the friendly feeling which has existed between the two nations for more than a century. The news was received in England with universal joy, and was hailed with delight by the whole community. The news was received with universal joy, and was hailed with delight by the whole community. The news was received with universal joy, and was hailed with delight by the whole community.

WILLIAM M. STONE.

O! how dear is he!—William M. Stone was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends. He was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends. He was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends.

The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility. The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility. The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility.

WILLIAM M. STONE.

O! how dear is he!—William M. Stone was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends. He was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends. He was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends.

The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility. The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility. The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility.

WILLIAM M. STONE.

O! how dear is he!—William M. Stone was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends. He was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends. He was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends.

The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility. The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility. The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility.

WILLIAM M. STONE.

O! how dear is he!—William M. Stone was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends. He was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends. He was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends.

The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility. The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility. The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility.

WILLIAM M. STONE.

O! how dear is he!—William M. Stone was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends. He was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends. He was a man of great talent and learning, and was much respected by his friends.

The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility. The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility. The public debt of the United States is now nearly paid off, and the country is in a state of peace and tranquility.