OUR COUNTRY IS THE WORLD—OUR COMPANION ARE ALL MANKIND.

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 4, 1854.

LETTER FROM A FRIEND.

Dear Sir,—I have seen your letter, and am as much surprised as you are to hear that the Legislature of Massachusetts has not passed the bill for the abolition of slavery in the State. I am particularly interested in this question, as I have always been a strong advocate of the rights of man, and believe that all men are created equal, and therefore entitled to equal protection under the law.

I cannot understand how such a bill can fail to pass, especially when it is so clearly in the interest of the people. The abolition of slavery is a question of great importance, and it is my opinion that all men should be treated equally under the law. I am therefore writing to you to ask your advice on how best to proceed in this matter.

Yours truly,

LETTER FROM A MINISTER.

Reverend Sir,—I have read your letter, and am very much gratified to hear that you are so thoroughly in favor of the abolition of slavery. I was not aware that there were so many people who felt as strongly on this question as you do.

I have always been a strong supporter of the rights of man, and believe that all men are created equal, and therefore entitled to equal protection under the law. I am therefore writing to you to ask your advice on how best to proceed in this matter.

Yours truly,

TO MISS MARY ANN GOOD, OF MARYLAND.

A letter from Miss Mary Ann Good, of Frederick, Maryland, to her niece, Miss Mary Good, of Baltimore, Maryland, contains the following:

"My dear niece, Mary, I am deeply grieved to hear of your health, but I am happy to know that you are recovering. I hope you will soon be able to return to your duties. I am enclosing a small sum of money to aid you in your expenses. Please write soon and let me know how you are getting along."

FROM THE ENGLISH REVIEW.

PERSIMMONS.

We have some persimmons in the garden, which are not yet ripe. They are a native fruit of the south, and are said to be a great delicacy. They are about the size of an orange, and have a sweet, juicy flavor. We are going to try them in a persimmon pudding, which I have read about in a cookbook."

THE GRAHAM JOURNAL.

Of late a number of newspapers have been published under the name of "Graham," but the one to which I refer is the "Graham Journal," of Philadelphia. This paper is a weekly, and is published every Saturday. It contains a variety of articles, including news, local news, and reviews of books and periodicals.
