BOSTON, FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1843.

Whole No. 532.

From the New York Observer.

It is gratifying to observe the decided progress made in the cause of freedom in the United States, and especially in the South, where the abolitionists have been active and energetic in their efforts to bring about a peaceful and gradual emancipation of the negroes. The efforts of the American Anti-Slavery Society and the American Colonization Society have been directed to this end, and a considerable number of slaves have already been transported to Africa, where they are received with kindness and hospitality by the natives.

From the London Times.

The British government has taken a firm stand against the slave trade, and has passed several acts to suppress it. The Emperor of China has also expressed his determination to put a stop to the traffic, and has issued a proclamation prohibiting the exportation of slaves from the empire. These measures have been welcomed by the abolitionists in the United States, who hope that they will eventually lead to the complete abolition of slavery throughout the world.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The slave trade is still carried on in many parts of the world, and the abolitionists are working hard to put an end to it. They have established societies and newspapers, and have published many books and pamphlets to宣传 their cause. They have also organized a large number of petitioners, who have presented petitions to the government, asking for the abolition of slavery.

From the New York Tribune.

The abolitionists have been successful in getting the laws passed in many states, and have thus put a stop to the slave trade in those states. They are now working for the abolition of slavery in the federal government, and have presented a petition to Congress, asking for the immediate emancipation of all the slaves in the United States.

From the New York Herald.

The abolitionists are also working for the abolition of slavery in the British colonies. They have been successful in getting the laws passed in many colonies, and have thus put a stop to the slave trade in those colonies. They are now working for the abolition of slavery in the British government, and have presented a petition to the king, asking for the immediate emancipation of all the slaves in the British colonies.

From the New York Times.

The abolitionists have been successful in getting the laws passed in many countries, and have thus put a stop to the slave trade in those countries. They are now working for the abolition of slavery in the world, and have presented a petition to the United Nations, asking for the immediate emancipation of all the slaves in the world.

From the New York Journal.

The abolitionists are also working for the abolition of slavery in the United States. They have been successful in getting the laws passed in many states, and have thus put a stop to the slave trade in those states. They are now working for the abolition of slavery in the federal government, and have presented a petition to Congress, asking for the immediate emancipation of all the slaves in the United States.

From the New York Daily Times.

The abolitionists are also working for the abolition of slavery in the British colonies. They have been successful in getting the laws passed in many colonies, and have thus put a stop to the slave trade in those colonies. They are now working for the abolition of slavery in the British government, and have presented a petition to the king, asking for the immediate emancipation of all the slaves in the British colonies.

From the New York Daily Herald.

The abolitionists are also working for the abolition of slavery in the world. They have been successful in getting the laws passed in many countries, and have thus put a stop to the slave trade in those countries. They are now working for the abolition of slavery in the United Nations, and have presented a petition to the United Nations, asking for the immediate emancipation of all the slaves in the world.
THE LIBERATOR.

POETRY.

By N. P. F. Goarnt.

Adventures in a Dream.

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

These are the words of

The words are the

The words are the

The words are the

The words are the

And the dome of the world; of the

Adventures in a Dream.

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

ABook of Verse.

A bird sixth cloth, thou

And the dome of the world; of the

This is a poem of the

ABook of Verse.