The pleasant Spring has come again,
All nature's heart is glad,
The mountains rise like giant men,
And smile with beauty clad;
The preity flowers are springing
In every greenwood shade,
Their perfumes round them flinging,
As aweet as Eden made.

As sweet as Eden mede.
The pleants Paying has come again,
The pleighman's songs arite,
White revoluted echoes mock, and then
The thrilling cadence dies;
The merry birds are ninging,
After the music deas,
After the music deas,
With soft and mellow notes.

With soit and memory noise.
The pleasant Spring has come egain
Its voice is in the trees,
It speaks from every sunny glee,
It rides upon the breeze;
The pretty flowers are springing.
The gushing founts are free,
The merry birds are singling,
Let all rejoice with me!
