IMPROMPTU
RECEIVING AN EAGLE'S QUILL FROM LAKE SUPERIOR.

All day the darkness and the cold Upon my heart have lain, Like shadows on the winter sky, Like frost upon the pane!

But now my torpid Fancy wakes, And, on thy Engle's plume, Rides forth, like Sinbad on his bird, Ox witch upon her broom!

Or witch upon her broom!

Below me roar the rocking pines,
Before me spreads the Lake,
Whose long and solemn counding
Against the sunset break.

I hear the wild Rice-Eater thresh
The grain it has not sown;
I see with flashing seythe of fire
The prairie harvest mown! I hear the far-off voyager's horn; I see the Yankee's trail— His foot on every mountain pass. On every stream his sail.

He's whittling round St. Mary's falls, Upon his loaded wafn; He's leaving on the Pictured Rocks His fresh tobacco-stain.

I hear the mattock in the mine, The axe-stroke in the dell, The clamor from the Indian lodg. The Jesuits' chapel ball!

Leee the swarthy trappers come
From Mississippi's aprings;
And war chiefs with their painted bre
And creats of eagle-wings.

And cross of eagle-wings.

Behind the scared squaw's birch or
The Steamer smokes and raves;
And city lots are staked for sale
Above old Indian graves.

By forest, lake and water-fall,
I see the peddler's show;
The mighty mingling with the r
The lefty with the low. I hear the tread of pioneers Of nations yet to be; The first low wash of waves where so Shall roll a human sea.

The rudiments of empire here
Are plastic yet, and warm;
The chaos of a mighty world
Is rounding into form!

Each rude and josting fragment soon
Its fitting place shall find—
The raw material of a State,
Its muscle and its mind!

And, westering still, the star which leads The New World in its train, Has tipped with fire the icy spears Of many a mountain chain.

The snowy cones of Oregon
Are kindling on its way;
And California's golden sands
Gleam brighter in its ray!

Then, blessings on thy Eagle quill,
As, wandering far and wide,
I thank thee for this twilight dream
And Fancy's airy ride.

And Tumoy's siry tide.
Yet, welcomer than rigal plums,
Which Western trapper find.
