The Liberator

EXHIBITS OF THE SLAVE TRADE.

In the absence of any reference to the subject of the slave trade in the newspapers of the Union, I propose to add to the present number of the Liberator an article on the subject, which I have prepared for the purpose. The article is carefully written, and I shall be glad to have it published.

The object of the article is to show the necessity of the abolition of the slave trade, and to point out the evils which it produces. The article is written in such a way as to be read with interest, and is intended to be a valuable contribution to the subject.

In the meantime, I shall be glad to hear from any one who can give me any information respecting the subject. I shall be happy to receive any correspondence on the subject, and shall be glad to send copies of the article to any one who wishes to have them.

The Liberator

BOSTON, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1849.

WHOLE NO. 965.
Reformatory.

PARTNERS OF M. T. WRIGHT.

Gates, (Mass.) June 4, 1850.

SIR,—I have been asked by several persons to give you an account of what is going on in this place. It is a great pity that the affair is not more generally known, for there is not a single error in the management, and it is the best thing that has been done in this country for the relief of the unfortunate and the injured.

I have been at the Reformatory for about six months, and I can assure you that the work is well done. The condition of the inmates is excellent, and they are all happy and contented. The management is strict, but it is also kind and affectionate. The inmates are treated with the greatest consideration, and they are all well provided for. They are taught to do good, and they are rewarded for their good conduct.

The Reformatory is a perfect model of what should be done in this country for the relief of the unfortunate and the injured. It is the best thing that has been done in this country for the relief of the unfortunate and the injured. The work is well done, and it is a great pity that the affair is not more generally known.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

HENRY C. WRIGHT.

HOW IS IT?

The principle of the Reformatory is to make the inmates happy and contented, and to teach them to do good. They are taught to do good, and they are rewarded for their good conduct. The work is well done, and it is a great pity that the affair is not more generally known.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

HENRY C. WRIGHT.
