From the Hartford Republic PORVARD1 Forward1; the day is breaking; Earth shall be dark no more Millions of men are waking On every sea and shore; With trampests and with beannes The world is marching on; The sir rings with hoasnnas; The sir dia y with hoasnnas;

The field is fought and won. Forward 1 on crown and mitre We trample as we go, While bright and ever brighter The firse of morning glow; Our broken foes are flying, Blasted by light from heaven; Or in the battle dying, Unwept and unforgiven.

Unversit and unforgiven. Forward : though storm and thund May fors to beat us back ; Though the earth cleave sannder Across our constant track ; No shapes of terror frighten Hearts that are true and strong, But the flames their pathway brigh And the thunder roll in song.

Forward ! the world before us Listens to hear our tread ; And the calm, pure heavens o'er Smile bleakings on our heads ; Hope, like an cagle, hovers Above the way we go; And the shield of Patience covern Our hearts from every foe.

Our hearts from every foe. Forward 1 let none now falter; The glorious end is near, When temple, throne, and altar, Shall fall and disappear: Truth, born of heaven, shall guide us To his own hapyy land ; And evermore beside us Freedom and Love shall stand.

Freedom and Love shall stand Forward! as near and nearer We draw unto our rest, The light of joy shines clearer In every faithful breast; The Past hath ceased to bind us, Its chains are hurled away, And the deeg doom behind us Melts in the dawning day.
