GRAND CELEBRATIONS.

GRAND CELEBRATIONS

BY HANRIO MEAGAN.

LITTLETON, NH.

The first day of the month of July, 1836, was appointed by President Andrew Jackson for the celebration of the centennial anniversary of American independence. The day was observed with great festivity, and in the evening the President delivered a speech, in which he reviewed the history of the country, and expressed his hope that it would continue to be prosperous and happy. The day was also celebrated by the British nation, and the King of Great Britain and Ireland delivered a speech, in which he congratulated the American people on their prosperity, and expressed his hope that they would continue to be the friends of peace and good will towards all nations.
