LETTER TO THE LIBERATOR FROM MISS MARGARET WILSON,

The Liberator.

PROGRESS OF THE NEW ENGLAND ANTI-SLAVERY CONVENTION.

WHEREAS: A committee appointed by the New England Anti-Slavery Convention, at its meeting in Boston, in the month of July last, have recommended that an Anti-Slavery Convention be held in this city, on the first Monday of August, for the purpose of framing and recommending such measures as may tend to the accomplishment of the work of emancipation, in the Union, and for the purpose of promoting the views of the American Anti-Slavery Convention, in its attempts to secure the equal rights of the colored citizen in the United States:

NOW, THEREFORE: The First Monday of August, 1859, is hereby designated as a day of observance, throughout the United States, in commemoration of the abolition of slavery in the British Colonies.

Boston, Aug. 1, 1859.

The Liberator.
