Thus early in life has the sugel of death seen at to make desolets another home in our midst., The discase of which she died was consumption. After an illness of more than six mouth, in which rever passes, was used for her recovery which the most tender and affections is collicated, only aggregated, the spirit was used for her recovery, and anguest, the spirity and affections to solicitude, could anguest, the spirity took its flight, we feel condient, to a higher and better apheres of humanismes than this. Though seving for a long time her appresseding dissolution in view, and about to leave an interesting little family behind, the never nummered or regiond in view of her early departure. ence of its friends, though they have passed on to a higher sphere of existence.

In view of the early departure of our friend, how appropriate these lines from Professor Norton 1—1, c.

"How blest are they whose transfers years
Pass like an evening method of slight;
Not dark with guilt not dim with tears,
"Whose course is short, unclouded, bright.

How cheerless were our lengthened way,
Did Heaven's own light not break the gloom;
Stream downward from eternal day,
And cast a glory round the tomb!

Then stay thy tears; the blest above
Have hailed a spirit's heavenly birth,
Sung a new song of joy and love,
And why should anguish reign on earth?
