The Liberator

NEW YORK:

VOL. XXI.

FIRST THURSDAY IN APRIL, 1855.

THE LIBERATOR.

S. W. GOODALE, Editor.

To the Reader:

The present number of the Liberator is the first of a new series. The paper is now published by Mr. S. W. Goodale, whose name will be found on the title-page.

The Liberator has been in existence for two years, and has already passed through more than 2,000 issues. It has been published weekly, and has contained about 120,000 pages.

The Liberator is a radical abolitionist newspaper, and is published by the American Anti-Slavery Society.

The Liberator's aim is to宣传 the cause of freedom and to expose the evils of slavery. It is a powerful advocate of the immediate abolition of slavery, and it strives to influence public opinion in favor of this cause.

The Liberator is a friend of the working classes, and it endeavors to give them a voice in the affairs of the country. It is a supporter of the labor movement, and it advocates the rights of workers.

The Liberator is a voice of reason and justice, and it seeks to promote the well-being of all people. It is a newspaper that stands for truth and justice, and it seeks to make the world a better place to live in.

The Liberator is a newspaper that stands for progress and freedom, and it seeks to make the world a better place to live in. It is a newspaper that stands for the rights of all people, and it seeks to make the world a better place to live in.

The Liberator is a newspaper that stands for the rights of all people, and it seeks to make the world a better place to live in. It is a newspaper that stands for the rights of all people, and it seeks to make the world a better place to live in.