THE LIBERATOR.

No Union with Slavemakers.

BOSTON, MARCH 23, 1858.

SHEPARD OF WINDSOR, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

MARCH 23, 1858.

W. E. DAVIES, EDITOR.

[Article begins with a discussion on the topic of slavery and its implications on American society, focusing on the moral and ethical considerations of maintaining a Union with slaveholding states.]

[Text continues with further analysis and arguments, touching on the historical context and the author's stance on the matter.]