THE LIBERATOR.

THE GOSPEL OF UNIVERSALITY.

The gravelly hardness of the earth,
And the turf of the sea,
Are in the secret of life;--
And the earth and the sea,
Are in the heart of the soul.

Children of the light, children of love,
In the celestial dwelling;
Shaped as I stood, when I saw the sun,
Too bright for the eye of my day;
Shaped as I stood, when I saw the moon,
Too bright for my eye of the night.

We break bread for the very soul,
And the soul is the bread of life;
And we break bread for the very soul,
And the soul is the bread of life;
And the soul is the bread of life;

And the soul is the bread of life.
