
TWENTY-FIRST NATIONAL ANTI-SLAVERY BAZAAR.

DURING THE CHRISTMAS WEEK OF 1854.

The Management of the Twenty-first National Anti-Slavery Bazaar, held in the city of New York, on Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday, December 23, 24,

The proceeds of the Bazaar, together with the subscriptions of those who have contributed to the cause, will be applied to the following objects: 1. The support and increase of the number of the missionaries in the Free States, and the purchase of the necessary books and tracts for distribution among the colored population. 2. The support and increase of the number of the missionaries in the British West Indies, and the purchase of the necessary books and tracts for distribution among the colored population. 3. The support and increase of the number of the missionaries in the British West Indies, and the purchase of the necessary books and tracts for distribution among the colored population. 4. The support and increase of the number of the missionaries in the British West Indies, and the purchase of the necessary books and tracts for distribution among the colored population. 5. The support and increase of the number of the missionaries in the British West Indies, and the purchase of the necessary books and tracts for distribution among the colored population. 6. The support and increase of the number of the missionaries in the British West Indies, and the purchase of the necessary books and tracts for distribution among the colored population.