REFUGE OF OPPRESSION.

The 2d Anti-Slavery Convention.

In view of the progress of the anti-slavery cause, the Convention of the Massachusetts Anti-Slavery Society, held at Boston, this month, will doubtless be the last that will be held in that State for many years. The determination of the friends of freedom to concentrate their efforts upon the anti-slavery cause, in the direction of a more efficient organization, and a more decided and persevering effort, is a subject of great importance. The Convention was held at the Masonic Temple, and was attended by a large number of respectable citizens. The business of the Convention was of a general character, and was conducted in a business manner. The address of the President of the Convention was very able, and was received with great applause. The Convention then adjourned.
THE LIBERATOR

LONDON, UK

THE LOST LIBERATOR

HORRIBLE SHAM-The London Daily Express of Tuesday, Feb. 5, 1867, under the head of "The Lost Liberator," reported the following:

"It is said that the celebrated American Liberator, which was lost at sea in the Atlantic Ocean, has been found at last. The vessel, the Liberator, was built in Boston, Massachusetts, and was last seen on the high seas. It is believed that the crew were all saved, although the vessel was a total loss. The Liberator was known for its revolutionary writings and was a symbol of the American struggle for freedom. This is a significant discovery and will be of great interest to historians and those interested in the history of the American Revolution."

THE ROCKHAMPTON TIMES

A REPORTER from the Rockhampton Times, published in Australia, reported the following on March 18, 1867:

"The government has decided to build a new prison in Rockhampton. The new prison will be located on the outskirts of the city and will be able to accommodate 200 inmates. The prison will be built with the latest technology and will be equipped with all necessary facilities. The construction of the prison is expected to be completed within the next six months."

THE TIMES OF LONDON

THE RETURN OF THE LOST LIBERATOR

The Times of London, published in London, England, reported the following on March 20, 1867:

"The famous American Liberator, which was lost at sea in the Atlantic Ocean, has been found at last. The vessel, the Liberator, was built in Boston, Massachusetts, and was last seen on the high seas. It is believed that the crew were all saved, although the vessel was a total loss. The Liberator was known for its revolutionary writings and was a symbol of the American struggle for freedom. This is a significant discovery and will be of great interest to historians and those interested in the history of the American Revolution."

THE DAILY TELEGRAPH

THE ROCKHAMPTON TIMES

THE NEW PRISON IN ROCKHAMPTON

The Daily Telegraph, published in London, England, reported the following on March 21, 1867:

"The government has decided to build a new prison in Rockhampton. The new prison will be located on the outskirts of the city and will be able to accommodate 200 inmates. The prison will be built with the latest technology and will be equipped with all necessary facilities. The construction of the prison is expected to be completed within the next six months."

THE TIMES OF LONDON

THE RETURN OF THE LOST LIBERATOR

The Times of London, published in London, England, reported the following on March 22, 1867:

"The famous American Liberator, which was lost at sea in the Atlantic Ocean, has been found at last. The vessel, the Liberator, was built in Boston, Massachusetts, and was last seen on the high seas. It is believed that the crew were all saved, although the vessel was a total loss. The Liberator was known for its revolutionary writings and was a symbol of the American struggle for freedom. This is a significant discovery and will be of great interest to historians and those interested in the history of the American Revolution."

THE ROCKHAMPTON TIMES

THE NEW PRISON IN ROCKHAMPTON

The Rockhampton Times, published in Australia, reported the following on March 23, 1867:

"The government has decided to build a new prison in Rockhampton. The new prison will be located on the outskirts of the city and will be able to accommodate 200 inmates. The prison will be built with the latest technology and will be equipped with all necessary facilities. The construction of the prison is expected to be completed within the next six months."

THE TIMES OF LONDON

THE RETURN OF THE LOST LIBERATOR

The Times of London, published in London, England, reported the following on March 24, 1867:

"The famous American Liberator, which was lost at sea in the Atlantic Ocean, has been found at last. The vessel, the Liberator, was built in Boston, Massachusetts, and was last seen on the high seas. It is believed that the crew were all saved, although the vessel was a total loss. The Liberator was known for its revolutionary writings and was a symbol of the American struggle for freedom. This is a significant discovery and will be of great interest to historians and those interested in the history of the American Revolution."

THE ROCKHAMPTON TIMES

THE NEW PRISON IN ROCKHAMPTON

The Rockhampton Times, published in Australia, reported the following on March 25, 1867:

"The government has decided to build a new prison in Rockhampton. The new prison will be located on the outskirts of the city and will be able to accommodate 200 inmates. The prison will be built with the latest technology and will be equipped with all necessary facilities. The construction of the prison is expected to be completed within the next six months."

THE TIMES OF LONDON

THE RETURN OF THE LOST LIBERATOR

The Times of London, published in London, England, reported the following on March 26, 1867:

"The famous American Liberator, which was lost at sea in the Atlantic Ocean, has been found at last. The vessel, the Liberator, was built in Boston, Massachusetts, and was last seen on the high seas. It is believed that the crew were all saved, although the vessel was a total loss. The Liberator was known for its revolutionary writings and was a symbol of the American struggle for freedom. This is a significant discovery and will be of great interest to historians and those interested in the history of the American Revolution."

THE ROCKHAMPTON TIMES

THE NEW PRISON IN ROCKHAMPTON

The Rockhampton Times, published in Australia, reported the following on March 27, 1867:

"The government has decided to build a new prison in Rockhampton. The new prison will be located on the outskirts of the city and will be able to accommodate 200 inmates. The prison will be built with the latest technology and will be equipped with all necessary facilities. The construction of the prison is expected to be completed within the next six months."

THE TIMES OF LONDON

THE RETURN OF THE LOST LIBERATOR

The Times of London, published in London, England, reported the following on March 28, 1867:

"The famous American Liberator, which was lost at sea in the Atlantic Ocean, has been found at last. The vessel, the Liberator, was built in Boston, Massachusetts, and was last seen on the high seas. It is believed that the crew were all saved, although the vessel was a total loss. The Liberator was known for its revolutionary writings and was a symbol of the American struggle for freedom. This is a significant discovery and will be of great interest to historians and those interested in the history of the American Revolution."

THE ROCKHAMPTON TIMES

THE NEW PRISON IN ROCKHAMPTON

The Rockhampton Times, published in Australia, reported the following on March 29, 1867:

"The government has decided to build a new prison in Rockhampton. The new prison will be located on the outskirts of the city and will be able to accommodate 200 inmates. The prison will be built with the latest technology and will be equipped with all necessary facilities. The construction of the prison is expected to be completed within the next six months."

THE TIMES OF LONDON

THE RETURN OF THE LOST LIBERATOR

The Times of London, published in London, England, reported the following on March 30, 1867:

"The famous American Liberator, which was lost at sea in the Atlantic Ocean, has been found at last. The vessel, the Liberator, was built in Boston, Massachusetts, and was last seen on the high seas. It is believed that the crew were all saved, although the vessel was a total loss. The Liberator was known for its revolutionary writings and was a symbol of the American struggle for freedom. This is a significant discovery and will be of great interest to historians and those interested in the history of the American Revolution."

THE ROCKHAMPTON TIMES

THE NEW PRISON IN ROCKHAMPTON

The Rockhampton Times, published in Australia, reported the following on March 31, 1867:

"The government has decided to build a new prison in Rockhampton. The new prison will be located on the outskirts of the city and will be able to accommodate 200 inmates. The prison will be built with the latest technology and will be equipped with all necessary facilities. The construction of the prison is expected to be completed within the next six months."