LETTER OF OPPRESSION.

Dear Friend in the Emancipation Society of New York,

I am writing to you as an ardent supporter of the cause of freedom. I recently visited the South, and I must express my shock at the conditions I witnessed there. The oppression of the black people is intolerable. It is a daily struggle for them to make ends meet, and their lives are filled with constant fear and uncertainty.

The plantations are vast and sprawling, with vast fields of cotton stretching as far as the eye can see. The enslaved people work long hours in the heat, with little to eat and even less to drink. They are treated with the utmost cruelty, and their lives are nothing more than a constant struggle for existence.

I witnessed the slave auctions myself. It was a heart-wrenching sight, and I could not help but feel a deep sense of sorrow for the people who were sold into slavery. They were sold not just as property, but as human beings.

The government of the United States claims to be a democracy, but the reality is far from that. The right to vote is denied to the black people, and their voices are silenced. It is a dark and shameful time in our history.

I urge you to continue your efforts in the cause of freedom. Let us work together to bring an end to this oppression, and to ensure that the black people are treated with the respect and dignity that they deserve.

Yours sincerely,
