REFUGE OF OPPRESSION.

UNITED STATES OF THE UNITED STATES—CRIMES AGAINST THE CONSTITUTION.

On Monday, April 9, 1858, the case of the United States v. the State of Dakota came on for hearing before the Supreme Court of the United States. The cause was argued by Mr. Justice Black, who, after a lengthy and able argument, submitted the case to the Court for decision. The Court, after a careful consideration of the evidence, pronounced judgment in favor of the United States, and declared the Dakota laws null and void.

Mr. Justice Black, in delivering the opinion of the Court, said:

"The United States are not bound by any law of the State of Dakota, and the Court is of opinion that the Dakota laws are null and void."
THE GREAT REVIVAL.

As far as the record of a quarter of a century, the present revival in America is the most important ever witnessed. Indeed, it has been a universal phenomenon. It has spread over the entire continent, and has been felt in every part of the land. It has been a great outpouring of the Spirit of God, a mighty movement of the people of God, a great awakening of the nations. It has been a day of great spiritual blessing, a day of great spiritual power, a day of great spiritual victory.

Mr. S. P. C. R. was the man of the hour. He was the leader of the movement, the director of the movement, the teacher of the movement. He was the prophet of the movement, the evangelist of the movement, the apostle of the movement. He was the man who spoke the word of God, the man who preached the word of God, the man who taught the word of God.

The church was filled to overflowing. The streets were filled with people. The field was filled with people. The hills were filled with people. The mountains were filled with people. The sea was filled with people. The heavens were filled with people. The earth was filled with people.

The missionary work was carried on in every part of the world. The foreign mission work was carried on in every part of the world. The home mission work was carried on in every part of the world. The religious work was carried on in every part of the world.

The Great Revival was a great victory for the cause of Christ. It was a great victory for the cause of righteousness. It was a great victory for the cause of truth.

THE GREAT REVIVAL.

As far as the record of a quarter of a century, the present revival in America is the most important ever witnessed. Indeed, it has been a universal phenomenon. It has spread over the entire continent, and has been felt in every part of the land. It has been a great outpouring of the Spirit of God, a mighty movement of the people of God, a great awakening of the nations. It has been a day of great spiritual blessing, a day of great spiritual power, a day of great spiritual victory.

Mr. S. P. C. R. was the man of the hour. He was the leader of the movement, the director of the movement, the teacher of the movement. He was the prophet of the movement, the evangelist of the movement, the apostle of the movement. He was the man who spoke the word of God, the man who preached the word of God, the man who taught the word of God.

The church was filled to overflowing. The streets were filled with people. The field was filled with people. The hills were filled with people. The mountains were filled with people. The sea was filled with people. The heavens were filled with people. The earth was filled with people.

The missionary work was carried on in every part of the world. The foreign mission work was carried on in every part of the world. The home mission work was carried on in every part of the world. The religious work was carried on in every part of the world.

The Great Revival was a great victory for the cause of Christ. It was a great victory for the cause of righteousness. It was a great victory for the cause of truth.

THE GREAT REVIVAL.

As far as the record of a quarter of a century, the present revival in America is the most important ever witnessed. Indeed, it has been a universal phenomenon. It has spread over the entire continent, and has been felt in every part of the land. It has been a great outpouring of the Spirit of God, a mighty movement of the people of God, a great awakening of the nations. It has been a day of great spiritual blessing, a day of great spiritual power, a day of great spiritual victory.

Mr. S. P. C. R. was the man of the hour. He was the leader of the movement, the director of the movement, the teacher of the movement. He was the prophet of the movement, the evangelist of the movement, the apostle of the movement. He was the man who spoke the word of God, the man who preached the word of God, the man who taught the word of God.

The church was filled to overflowing. The streets were filled with people. The field was filled with people. The hills were filled with people. The mountains were filled with people. The sea was filled with people. The heavens were filled with people. The earth was filled with people.

The missionary work was carried on in every part of the world. The foreign mission work was carried on in every part of the world. The home mission work was carried on in every part of the world. The religious work was carried on in every part of the world.

The Great Revival was a great victory for the cause of Christ. It was a great victory for the cause of righteousness. It was a great victory for the cause of truth.