The Liberator.

NO UNION WITH SLAVEHOLDERS.

BOSTON, OCTOBER 22, 1839.

LETTER OF THE PREJUDICE.

Dear Friend,

You ask me whether the Massachusetts Legislature is in favor of the Abolition of Slavery. They are not.

In November, 1838, in answer to a letter (marked as no. 1), I sent you the Massachusetts Constitution, and in it is the following clause: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Abolitionists (who are the only ones to whom the Constitution of Massachusetts applies) are not permitted to vote or hold office in the State, and hence they are not entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case.

P.S. The Massachusetts Constitution was adopted in 1780, and is still in force. It is the same as the Constitution of the United States, except that it is more explicit in some parts.

The Liberator.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

Dear Friend,

I have been informed by a friend of mine that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Liberator.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

Dear Friend,

I have been informed by a friend of mine that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Liberator.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

Dear Friend,

I have been informed by a friend of mine that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Liberator.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

Dear Friend,

I have been informed by a friend of mine that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Liberator.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

Dear Friend,

I have been informed by a friend of mine that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Liberator.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

Dear Friend,

I have been informed by a friend of mine that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Liberator.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

Dear Friend,

I have been informed by a friend of mine that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Liberator.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

Dear Friend,

I have been informed by a friend of mine that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Liberator.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

Dear Friend,

I have been informed by a friend of mine that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Liberator.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

Dear Friend,

I have been informed by a friend of mine that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Liberator.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

Dear Friend,

I have been informed by a friend of mine that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

I have also been informed that the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the admission of Abolitionists to the State.

The law is as follows: "No person shall be entitled to the benefit of an Oath in any case, unless he shall have been a citizen of the State for three years preceding the time of such Oath." This was the provision which the Massachusetts Legislature had made to exclude the Abolitionists from the State.

The Liberator.