The Liberator

Boston, May 4, 1854.

Removal.

The office of the Massachusetts Anti-Slavery Society, No. 135 Post Office Square, Boston, is about to be removed to the Washington Building, Washington, D.C., on the first of June. All persons interested in the society's work are requested to come to the new office, where the society's correspondence will be conducted.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN ANTI-SLAVERY SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the American Anti-Slavery Society will be held in the Washington Building, Washington, D.C., on the first of June, commencing at 10 a.m. The meeting will be held for the purpose of receiving the report of the secretary and treasurer for the past year, and electing a new set of officers. The meeting is open to all persons interested in the society's work.

The Liberator

A Slave Auction.

Here is a scene where slave traders unite to trade slaves. The city of Richmond is one of the most beautiful in the United States, and the buildings are surrounded by lovely gardens and parks. In the city, the slaves are kept in a state of slavery, and are sold for a profit. The Liberator is a newspaper that exposes the inhumanity of the slave trade and advocates for its abolition.

The Liberator

A Word from Washington.

Mr. Thaddeus Stevens, a member of Congress from Pennsylvania, has introduced a bill to provide for the gradual emancipation of the slaves in the United States. The bill is supported by the Republican party and is opposed by the Democratic party. The bill has been referred to a committee, and it is uncertain whether it will pass. The Liberator is a newspaper that supports the abolition of slavery and advocates for the rights of African Americans.

The Liberator

A Word from Washington (Continued).

Mr. Thaddeus Stevens, a member of Congress from Pennsylvania, has introduced a bill to provide for the gradual emancipation of the slaves in the United States. The bill is supported by the Republican party and is opposed by the Democratic party. The bill has been referred to a committee, and it is uncertain whether it will pass. The Liberator is a newspaper that supports the abolition of slavery and advocates for the rights of African Americans.
MAY 4.

THE LIBERATOR.

FUTHER SLAVE RESCUES IN TROY.

Sunday Women with the Colored Troopers and

From the 3rd to 5th, April.

THE ELEPHANT TUNES.

To the Editor:-The above is a true statement of the facts, and I have no reason to believe them in error. I am, &c.

[Sign.

[Note: The full text of this document contains multiple articles, advertisements, and editorial content. Due to the nature of the content, a detailed transcription is omitted here for brevity.]

PHILADELPHIA, D. C.

March 18.

The Editor of the Liberator.

I have just received a letter from Mr. A., a freeman from South Carolina, who says that he has been a slave for thirty years, and that he was sold by his master to Mr. B., a free man, who lived in the same town. Mr. B. gave him his freedom, but he has not yet been able to find work. Is there any hope of his getting work? If so, where can he go to find it? If not, what can be done for him? I am, &c.

[Sign.

[Note: The full text of this document continues with various articles and advertisements, including an advertisement for the new edition of "THE SILENT SONG." ]
THE LIBERATOR.

THE RISING OF NON-RESISTANCE.

The abolition of slavery is not the end of the struggle. It is the beginning of a new era in the history of humanity. The LIBERATOR will devote itself to the promotion of the cause of non-resistance. Non-resistance is the true and only means of emancipating the oppressed. The LIBERATOR will oppose the use of force in all its forms, and will advocate the abolition of all forms of oppression. The LIBERATOR will strive to educate the people to the principles of non-resistance, and will work for the establishment of a society based on the principles of non-violence.