THE LIBERATOR.

JULY 27.

IN OTHER WORDS.

There are two views in the world on the subject of education. One is that it is the duty of the government to educate all its citizens gratuitously. The other is that education is a privilege which should be purchased by the individual. The former is held by those who believe in a democratic society where the government is responsible to the people. The latter is held by those who believe in a capitalist society where the government is not responsible to the people.

THE LIBERATOR.

JULY 27.

IN OTHER WORDS.

There are two views in the world on the subject of education. One is that it is the duty of the government to educate all its citizens gratuitously. The other is that education is a privilege which should be purchased by the individual. The former is held by those who believe in a democratic society where the government is responsible to the people. The latter is held by those who believe in a capitalist society where the government is not responsible to the people.

THE LIBERATOR.

JULY 27.

IN OTHER WORDS.

There are two views in the world on the subject of education. One is that it is the duty of the government to educate all its citizens gratuitously. The other is that education is a privilege which should be purchased by the individual. The former is held by those who believe in a democratic society where the government is responsible to the people. The latter is held by those who believe in a capitalist society where the government is not responsible to the people.

THE LIBERATOR.

JULY 27.

IN OTHER WORDS.

There are two views in the world on the subject of education. One is that it is the duty of the government to educate all its citizens gratuitously. The other is that education is a privilege which should be purchased by the individual. The former is held by those who believe in a democratic society where the government is responsible to the people. The latter is held by those who believe in a capitalist society where the government is not responsible to the people.

THE LIBERATOR.

JULY 27.

IN OTHER WORDS.

There are two views in the world on the subject of education. One is that it is the duty of the government to educate all its citizens gratuitously. The other is that education is a privilege which should be purchased by the individual. The former is held by those who believe in a democratic society where the government is responsible to the people. The latter is held by those who believe in a capitalist society where the government is not responsible to the people.

THE LIBERATOR.

JULY 27.

IN OTHER WORDS.

There are two views in the world on the subject of education. One is that it is the duty of the government to educate all its citizens gratuitously. The other is that education is a privilege which should be purchased by the individual. The former is held by those who believe in a democratic society where the government is responsible to the people. The latter is held by those who believe in a capitalist society where the government is not responsible to the people.

THE LIBERATOR.

JULY 27.

IN OTHER WORDS.

There are two views in the world on the subject of education. One is that it is the duty of the government to educate all its citizens gratuitously. The other is that education is a privilege which should be purchased by the individual. The former is held by those who believe in a democratic society where the government is responsible to the people. The latter is held by those who believe in a capitalist society where the government is not responsible to the people.