Refuge of Oppression.

Address of the Workmen of Massachusetts.

The workmen of Massachusetts, assembled at Framingham, have addressed the President of the United States, through his loyal Secretary of State, Mr. Seward, in the following address:—

"To the President of the United States, at Washington, D.C.

"We, the undersigned citizens of Massachusetts, who have assembled at Framingham this day, being deeply impressed with the same views, and actuated by the same feelings, call upon you to aid in the establishment of a Republic in which the laboring classes shall have a voice, and a share in the government of the country. We believe that the laboring classes are entitled to a share in the government of the country, as well as to a share in the enjoyment of its fruits. We believe that, by the establishment of a Republic, the laboring classes will have a better chance to secure their rights, and to enjoy the fruits of their labors. We trust that you will do all in your power to promote the establishment of a Republic, and to ensure the success of the movement. We are, therefore, resolved to support you in your efforts, and to aid in the establishment of a Republic, in every possible manner. We are, therefore, resolved to support you in your efforts, and to aid in the establishment of a Republic, in every possible manner."
