The Liberator.

As Bais with Revelations.

BOSTON, FRIDAY, APRIL 19, 1850.

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN A. S. SOCIETY.

F. W. NEWTON, President.

The President then called to the Bar the Secretary, who read the correspondence, &c., from the quartermaster of the U. S. Navy, proving that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the island of Cuba to the United States, and that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the United States to the island of Cuba.

The President then called to the Bar the Secretary, who read the correspondence, &c., from the quartermaster of the U. S. Navy, proving that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the island of Cuba to the United States, and that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the United States to the island of Cuba.

The President then called to the Bar the Secretary, who read the correspondence, &c., from the quartermaster of the U. S. Navy, proving that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the island of Cuba to the United States, and that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the United States to the island of Cuba.

The President then called to the Bar the Secretary, who read the correspondence, &c., from the quartermaster of the U. S. Navy, proving that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the island of Cuba to the United States, and that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the United States to the island of Cuba.

The President then called to the Bar the Secretary, who read the correspondence, &c., from the quartermaster of the U. S. Navy, proving that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the island of Cuba to the United States, and that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the United States to the island of Cuba.

The President then called to the Bar the Secretary, who read the correspondence, &c., from the quartermaster of the U. S. Navy, proving that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the island of Cuba to the United States, and that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the United States to the island of Cuba.

The President then called to the Bar the Secretary, who read the correspondence, &c., from the quartermaster of the U. S. Navy, proving that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the island of Cuba to the United States, and that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the United States to the island of Cuba.

The President then called to the Bar the Secretary, who read the correspondence, &c., from the quartermaster of the U. S. Navy, proving that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the island of Cuba to the United States, and that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the United States to the island of Cuba.

The President then called to the Bar the Secretary, who read the correspondence, &c., from the quartermaster of the U. S. Navy, proving that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the island of Cuba to the United States, and that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the United States to the island of Cuba.

The President then called to the Bar the Secretary, who read the correspondence, &c., from the quartermaster of the U. S. Navy, proving that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the island of Cuba to the United States, and that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the United States to the island of Cuba.

The President then called to the Bar the Secretary, who read the correspondence, &c., from the quartermaster of the U. S. Navy, proving that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the island of Cuba to the United States, and that the State of Massachusetts has paid for the transportation of the negroes from the United States to the island of Cuba.
Select Articles.

EMANCIPATION OF THE SLAVERY IN U.S.

The Emancipation of the Slavery in U.S. was an act of the 40th Congress of the United States, which freed all enslaved people in the United States. The act was signed into law by President Abraham Lincoln on January 1, 1863, during the American Civil War. The Emancipation Proclamation was a turning point in the war, as it helped to rally public support for the Union and to weaken the Confederacy's ability to raise troops. The proclamation paved the way for the eventual end of slavery and the reunification of the United States.

MAKERS OF THE CONSTITUTION

The Constitution of the United States was made by a convention of delegates from the states and ratified by the states. The Constitution was written to establish a strong national government and to protect the rights of the states. It was ratified in 1788 and has remained in effect ever since. The Constitution includes a Bill of Rights, which guarantees individual freedoms and liberties.

Selected Articles.

[Continued...]

No further articles are visible on this page.