Refuge of Oppression.

The Emancipation Proclamation.

The leading abolitionists of Massachusetts were recently in the city of Philadelphia, where they met with the American Anti-Slavery Society. The meeting was highly important, and the resolutions adopted carried out the anti-slavery policy of the organization. The speakers entertained the meeting with a series of brilliant speeches, and the resolutions were passed with enthusiasm. The resolutions call upon the government to take immediate and decisive steps to put an end to the cruel and inhuman practice of slavery. The resolutions also call upon all men to unite in the struggle for the abolition of slavery.

The Emancipation Proclamation and the Border States.

The Emancipation Proclamation, issued by President Lincoln, is a great step forward in the struggle for the abolition of slavery. It is a bold and courageous act, and it is sure to be followed by a great movement for the abolition of slavery. The proclamation gives freedom to all slaves in the rebel states. The proclamation is a great victory for the cause of freedom, and it is sure to be a great blow to the slaveholders.

AN INVESTIGATION INTO THE MISCHIEF SCHOOLS AFFAIRS AT CHATHAM, N.B. — By James Murray, F.T.

While I was employed in the Sandwich, the following incident occurred, which has an important bearing on the question of educational relief:

Mr. A., a prominent citizen of the town, was approached by a group of parents, who asked him to present their case before the Board of Education. Mr. A. agreed, and scheduled a meeting for the following week. At the meeting, several parents expressed their concern about the high cost of education, and suggested that the town should consider providing financial assistance to students who are unable to afford the fees.

In his response, Mr. A. emphasized the importance of providing educational opportunities to all children, regardless of their financial status. He also noted that the town's schools were over-crowded, and that the quality of education was suffering as a result.

In light of these concerns, Mr. A. proposed a plan to the Board of Education, which included the establishment of a scholarship fund to assist students in need. The plan was well-received, and the Board of Education voted to approve it.

Since then, the town has seen a significant increase in the number of students attending the schools, and the quality of education has improved greatly.

DEATHS OF INTEREST.

Just by the death of Mr. B., a prominent citizen of the town, who was widely respected for his wisdom and integrity. Mr. B. was a lifelong resident of the town, and had served on the Board of Education for many years. He passed away peacefully at his home on the morning of the 15th, leaving behind a legacy of dedication to the education of the town's children.

In his memory, the Board of Education has decided to establish a scholarship in Mr. B.'s name, to be awarded annually to a student who demonstrates exceptional promise in the field of education.

We extend our deepest condolences to Mr. B.'s family and friends, and to the town of Chatham, which has lost a true and worthy citizen.
