Reign of Oppression.

WENDELL PHILLIPS ADDRESS:

"We are now entering upon an era of profound change, the like of which the world has not seen before. The great statesmen of the past have been drowned in blood, and the most powerful nations have been subjected to the will of a single man. But we are not yet at the end of our journey. The time has come for us to look beyond the present, to the future that lies before us.

In this new era, we must be strong, we must be united, we must be resolute. For the world is changing, and we must change with it. But we must not change for the sake of change. We must change to become better, to become stronger.

We must resist the forces of oppression, we must stand up for what is right. We must not be afraid of the future, for it is in our hands. We must be the change we wish to see in the world, and we must be ready to fight for it.

WENDELL PHILLIPS AS AN ORATOR:

"The world is a stage, and all the men and women merely players. But we are not mere players, we are the architects of our own destiny. We must not let others shape our future, we must shape our own.

We are the ones who can make the world a better place, we are the ones who can make a difference. We must not be content with mediocrity, we must strive for excellence, we must strive for greatness.

WENDELL PHILLIPS OFFICIATES:

"Here we stand, on the threshold of a new era. The world is changing, and we must be ready to meet it. We must not be afraid of change, we must welcome it, we must embrace it.

We are the ones who can make the world a better place, we are the ones who can make a difference. We must not be content with mediocrity, we must strive for excellence, we must strive for greatness.
