THE LIBERATOR

Our Country is the World, our Countenance is all mankind.

VOL. XXXIV. NO. 14. BOSTON, FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1864. WHOLE NO. 1780.

Sequences.

REMARKS LECTUR.

[Article beginning with "About twenty-eight years ago, the present paper was established..." and continuing with various historical and political commentary.]

IN MEMORIAM.

[Article beginning with "In the course of last week, we announced the death..." and continuing with tributes and biographical information about an individual.]

The text continues with a series of articles covering a range of topics including legal, political, and cultural matters, as well as notices and advertisements. The layout is typical of a 19th-century newspaper, with columns and headings clearly defined, and the content reflects the social and political concerns of the time.
A GREAT LOSS TO THE COUNTRY.

John Brown, the celebrated blackguard of the antislavery movement, was shot to death on the morning of the 13th ult., in the course of a fight which took place at his residence in Washington, on the 11th inst. The affair was excited by a dispute between General Scott and two of his staff-officers, who were attempting to arrest Mr. Brown for the purpose of removing him from the city. Mr. Brown, who had been the object of much importance to the antislavery cause, had been living in Washington for some time, and had been the subject of much attention on the part of General Scott. He was shot in the chest, and was taken to the Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The death of Mr. Brown is a great loss to the antislavery cause, and will be mourned by all who have opposed slavery.

TRIBUTES TO JOHN THOMPSON.

John Thompson, the celebrated blackguard of the antislavery movement, was shot to death on the morning of the 13th ult., in the course of a fight which took place at his residence in Washington, on the 11th inst. The affair was excited by a dispute between General Scott and two of his staff-officers, who were attempting to arrest Mr. Brown for the purpose of removing him from the city. Mr. Brown, who had been the object of much importance to the antislavery movement, had been living in Washington for some time, and had been the subject of much attention on the part of General Scott. He was shot in the chest, and was taken to the Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The death of Mr. Brown is a great loss to the antislavery cause, and will be mourned by all who have opposed slavery.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 15, 1864.

[Letter to the Editor of the Liberator.]

Dear Sir,

I have the honor to inclose herewith a copy of a letter which I recently received from Mr. Brown, the celebrated blackguard of the antislavery movement. Mr. Brown has been living in Washington for some time, and has been the subject of much attention on the part of General Scott. He has been shot in the chest, and has been taken to the Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The death of Mr. Brown is a great loss to the antislavery cause, and will be mourned by all who have opposed slavery.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

[Editor's Note: Mr. Brown's letter was inclosed with the above letter, and contained the following paragraphs:

"I have the honor to inclose herewith a copy of a letter which I recently received from Mr. Brown, the celebrated blackguard of the antislavery movement. Mr. Brown has been living in Washington for some time, and has been the subject of much attention on the part of General Scott. He has been shot in the chest, and has been taken to the Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The death of Mr. Brown is a great loss to the antislavery cause, and will be mourned by all who have opposed slavery.

Yours truly,

[Signature]."]

[LETTERS FROM NEW YORK, No. IV.]

New York, March 30, 1864.

[Letter to the Editor of the Liberator.]

Dear Sir,

I have the honor to inclose herewith a copy of a letter which I recently received from Mr. Brown, the celebrated blackguard of the antislavery movement. Mr. Brown has been living in Washington for some time, and has been the subject of much attention on the part of General Scott. He has been shot in the chest, and has been taken to the Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The death of Mr. Brown is a great loss to the antislavery cause, and will be mourned by all who have opposed slavery.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

[Editor's Note: Mr. Brown's letter was inclosed with the above letter, and contained the following paragraphs:

"I have the honor to inclose herewith a copy of a letter which I recently received from Mr. Brown, the celebrated blackguard of the antislavery movement. Mr. Brown has been living in Washington for some time, and has been the subject of much attention on the part of General Scott. He has been shot in the chest, and has been taken to the Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The death of Mr. Brown is a great loss to the antislavery cause, and will be mourned by all who have opposed slavery.

Yours truly,

[Signature]."]

[LETTERS FROM NEW YORK, No. V.]

New York, April 9, 1864.

[Letter to the Editor of the Liberator.]

Dear Sir,

I have the honor to inclose herewith a copy of a letter which I recently received from Mr. Brown, the celebrated blackguard of the antislavery movement. Mr. Brown has been living in Washington for some time, and has been the subject of much attention on the part of General Scott. He has been shot in the chest, and has been taken to the Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The death of Mr. Brown is a great loss to the antislavery cause, and will be mourned by all who have opposed slavery.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

[Editor's Note: Mr. Brown's letter was inclosed with the above letter, and contained the following paragraphs:

"I have the honor to inclose herewith a copy of a letter which I recently received from Mr. Brown, the celebrated blackguard of the antislavery movement. Mr. Brown has been living in Washington for some time, and has been the subject of much attention on the part of General Scott. He has been shot in the chest, and has been taken to the Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The death of Mr. Brown is a great loss to the antislavery cause, and will be mourned by all who have opposed slavery.

Yours truly,

[Signature]."]
The Liberator

GREAT DOMAIN OF ABOLITION.

[Text content of the article]