Refuge of Oppression.

Address of Wendell Phillips.

In the American Statistics, Mr. Wendell Phillips is the name of a well-known abolitionist who has been a strong advocate for the emancipation of slaves. He has written extensively on the subject and has been a prominent figure in the abolitionist movement in the United States.

In his address, Mr. Phillips highlights the suffering of slaves and the need for immediate action to stop the oppression. He argues that the American government has a moral obligation to free the slaves and that it is essential for the future of the country.

Phillips' words have resonated with many Americans, and his address has been widely cited as a key moment in the abolitionist movement. It is often referred to as one of the most influential speeches of the era.

LETTERS FROM PROFESSOR FINLEY.

Hon. Louis C. Tiffany, New York.

Professor Finley's circular letter of May 24th has been received by me, and I have the honor to acknowledge it.

The subject of education in the United States is of great importance. The duties of a teacher are heavy, but I think I am able to discharge them. I am in the best of health, and I have the resources of the United States at my command.

I am greatly pleased to learn that you are favorably disposed towards the scheme of education. I believe that I am able to carry it out successfully.

I shall be happy to hear from you at any time, and I shall be glad to receive any information you may have on the subject of education.

Your obedient servant,

[Signature]

Professor Finley.

LETTERS FROM PROFESSOR FINLEY.

To William Lloyd Garrison.

April 24, 1864.

My dear friend,

I am glad to hear from you. I have been thinking a great deal about the subject of education, and I am convinced that it is of the utmost importance.

I am now engaged in the work of education, and I am doing my best to carry out the scheme. I believe that I am able to succeed.

I shall be happy to hear from you at any time, and I shall be glad to receive any information you may have on the subject of education.

Your obedient servant,

PRESENTATION TO GOVERNOR ANDREW.

The Boston Mass Drum and Fife Band, under the direction of Mr. William E. Gorham, was presented to Governor Andrew, by Mr. W. S. Blodgett, at the State House, Boston, on the 8th inst. Mr. Blodgett, in his address, said that the Band was raised for the purpose of rendering public service, and that it had already distinguished itself in that way. Governor Andrew, in his reply, expressed his gratitude for the presentation, and said that he would do his best to promote the interests of music and art in the State.

NEW YORK AT CENTRALIA, N. T.

John Brown, the famous abolitionist, arrived at Centralia, N. T., on the 10th inst., on his way to the State of Illinois. He was received with a hearty welcome by the Free Men of Color, and was escorted to his lodgings by a delegation of citizens. Mr. Brown, in his address, said that he was confident that the time was not far distant when slavery would be abolished in the United States, and that he would do his best to promote the cause of freedom.

BATTLE OF THE BRIDGE.-The Battle of the Bridge, near Alexandria, Virginia, was a signal victory for the Union army. The Rebels, under the command of General Lee, were defeated and driven from the field. The loss of the Rebels was heavy, and the Union army emerged victorious.
