Refuge of Oppression.

OLD AGE.

By Rev. R. Thayer.

[Article discussing the treatment of the elderly in society, particularly focusing on their financial struggles and the need for support.]

[Article continues with a call for action and policy changes to alleviate the hardship faced by the elderly.]

[Additional articles and editorials discussing various social and political issues of the time, including education, temperance, and the plight of the poor.]

LETTER FROM GEN. SCOTT.

THE MILITARY AND MILITARY CAMPAIGNS.

[Discussion of military operations and strategies during a significant period in U.S. history.]

[Accounts of battles and events that shaped the course of the war, including perspectives from both sides.]

[Additional articles and editorials on military topics, possibly including commentary on the performance of various military leaders and strategies employed.]
WHAT OUR LEADING GENTLEMEN SAY.

Resolved: This annual statement of the financial results and prospects of the Dispensary is equally consistent with the views of the Dispensary's Board and with the wishes of the community.

The President of the Dispensary made an important statement to the Board, in which he said: "I can assure you that we are in no danger of a financial want, and I have confidence that the capital of the Dispensary will be more than adequate for all the purposes for which it is intended."}

SPEECH OF SIR DANIEL R. THURLOW, ESQ.,

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, FRIENDS AND THE CONSTITUENTS OF THE DISTRICT,

For the last year or two there has been a great deal of talk about the great conflict which has taken place in Europe, and the result of which is to be the establishment of a new order of things. The question is, whether we are going to be good enough to work for this new order of things, or whether we are going to resist it, and continue to live in the old order of things.

In this speech, Sir Daniel R. Thurlow, Esq., expresses his conviction that the British people are determined to work for the new order of things, and that they will do so, even if it costs them all their property and all their lives.

THE SPEECH OF SIR DANIEL R. THURLOW, ESQ.,

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, FRIENDS AND THE CONSTITUENTS OF THE DISTRICT,

In this speech, Sir Daniel R. Thurlow, Esq., expresses his conviction that the British people are determined to work for the new order of things, and that they will do so, even if it costs them all their property and all their lives.

In this speech, Sir Daniel R. Thurlow, Esq., expresses his conviction that the British people are determined to work for the new order of things, and that they will do so, even if it costs them all their property and all their lives.