ANCHORING THE FREE STATE.

The Unionist yesterday took possession of a large part of the state of Maryland, and will enjoy possession by a force of about 20000 men, under the command of Major-General McClellan. The capture of this state is considered a great victory for the Union, and will have a striking effect on the morale of the Confederacy. The Marylanders have resisted the Unionists, but have been overpowered by superior force.

Among the many extraordinary events which have taken place in the war, the capture of Richmond is one of the most important. The city has been occupied by Union forces for several days, and the people are now free from the fear of invasion. The Unionists have taken possession of the city, and will enjoy possession by a force of about 20000 men, under the command of Major-General McClellan.

The capture of Richmond is considered a great victory for the Union, and will have a striking effect on the morale of the Confederacy. The Marylanders have resisted the Unionists, but have been overpowered by superior force.

A representation meeting was held in the city of Washington yesterday, and the following resolutions were adopted:

1. That the Unionists be congratulated on the capture of Richmond.
2. That the people of Maryland be instructed to support the Union.
3. That the Unionists be granted a bounty of $100 for each man who enlists in the army.
4. That the Unionists be granted a bounty of $50 for each man who enlists in the navy.
5. That the Unionists be granted a bounty of $25 for each man who enlists in the army of the interior.

The resolutions were carried by a large majority, and were adopted with enthusiasm. The people of Maryland are now free from the fear of invasion, and are ready to support the Union in any way they can.

ATTACK ON GENERAL POINDEXTER.

Several of our readers have been prevented from obtaining the newspaper, and have therefore been unable to read the account of the capture of Richmond. We are sorry to hear that the Unionists have taken possession of the city, and will enjoy possession by a force of about 20000 men, under the command of Major-General McClellan. The capture of Richmond is considered a great victory for the Union, and will have a striking effect on the morale of the Confederacy. The Marylanders have resisted the Unionists, but have been overpowered by superior force.

Among the many extraordinary events which have taken place in the war, the capture of Richmond is one of the most important. The city has been occupied by Union forces for several days, and the people are now free from the fear of invasion. The Unionists have taken possession of the city, and will enjoy possession by a force of about 20000 men, under the command of Major-General McClellan.

The capture of Richmond is considered a great victory for the Union, and will have a striking effect on the morale of the Confederacy. The Marylanders have resisted the Unionists, but have been overpowered by superior force.

A representation meeting was held in the city of Washington yesterday, and the following resolutions were adopted:

1. That the Unionists be congratulated on the capture of Richmond.
2. That the people of Maryland be instructed to support the Union.
3. That the Unionists be granted a bounty of $100 for each man who enlists in the army.
4. That the Unionists be granted a bounty of $50 for each man who enlists in the navy.
5. That the Unionists be granted a bounty of $25 for each man who enlists in the army of the interior.

The resolutions were carried by a large majority, and were adopted with enthusiasm. The people of Maryland are now free from the fear of invasion, and are ready to support the Union in any way they can.

ATTACK ON GENERAL POINDEXTER.

Several of our readers have been prevented from obtaining the newspaper, and have therefore been unable to read the account of the capture of Richmond. We are sorry to hear that the Unionists have taken possession of the city, and will enjoy possession by a force of about 20000 men, under the command of Major-General McClellan. The capture of Richmond is considered a great victory for the Union, and will have a striking effect on the morale of the Confederacy. The Marylanders have resisted the Unionists, but have been overpowered by superior force.

Among the many extraordinary events which have taken place in the war, the capture of Richmond is one of the most important. The city has been occupied by Union forces for several days, and the people are now free from the fear of invasion. The Unionists have taken possession of the city, and will enjoy possession by a force of about 20000 men, under the command of Major-General McClellan.

The capture of Richmond is considered a great victory for the Union, and will have a striking effect on the morale of the Confederacy. The Marylanders have resisted the Unionists, but have been overpowered by superior force.

A representation meeting was held in the city of Washington yesterday, and the following resolutions were adopted:

1. That the Unionists be congratulated on the capture of Richmond.
2. That the people of Maryland be instructed to support the Union.
3. That the Unionists be granted a bounty of $100 for each man who enlists in the army.
4. That the Unionists be granted a bounty of $50 for each man who enlists in the navy.
5. That the Unionists be granted a bounty of $25 for each man who enlists in the army of the interior.

The resolutions were carried by a large majority, and were adopted with enthusiasm. The people of Maryland are now free from the fear of invasion, and are ready to support the Union in any way they can.
THE LIBERATOR.

PHILADELPHIA, DECEMBER 9, 1864.

NATIONALISM AND GEOGRAPHICAL CONSIDERATIONS.

[Article discussing the concept of nationalism and its geographical implications.]

THE GREAT RAILROAD DISASTER.

[Report on a railroad disaster, including details of the accident and its aftermath.]

DR. BRYANT ON ST. PETERSBURG.

[Discussion on St. Petersburg, its significance, and the implications of the city's role in international affairs.]